Mayflower II Photos

The Mayflower II is a replica of the 17th century ship Mayflower, celebrated for transporting the Pilgrims to the New World. The replica was built in Devon, England, during 1955-1956. The ship was launched September 22, 1956 from Devon, England, and set sail in the spring of 1957. The voyage took 55 days and the ship arrived in Plymouth Harbor on June 13, 1957.

The Mayflower II was financed by private donations in England and by an American museum. Within a few details (electric lights added and ladder replaced with a lower-deck staircase), the ship is considered an exact replica, with solid oak timbers, tarred hemp rigging, and hand-coloured maps. The ship is 106 ft long by 25 ft wide, 236 tons displacement, 4 masts (mainmast, foremast, mizzen, sprit), and has 6 sails.

1. John¹ Tilley (Robert^A, William^B, Thomas^C, Henry^D Tilly) was born Dec 19, 1571 in Henlow, Bedford, England (Came On The Mayflower Ship), and died Apr 10, 1621 in Plymouth, Plymouth, Massachusetts, USA. He married Joan Hurst Sep 20, 1596 in Henlow, Bedford, England, daughter of William Hurst and Rose Marshe. She was born Mar 13, 1567/68 in Henlow, Bedford, England (Came On The Mayflower Ship), and died Abt. 1621 in Plymouth, Plymouth, Massachusetts, USA.

Notes for John Tilley:

John Tilley was born in 1571 in Henlow, Bedford, England, and married the widowed Joan (Hurst) Rogers on 20 September 1596 in Henlow. John was a silk-weaver. He, his wife Joan, and his youngest daughter Elizabeth all came on the Mayflower to Plymouth in 1620. He signed the Mayflower Compact of 1620.

John and his wife both died the first winter at Plymouth, orphaning the 13-year old Elizabeth Tilley in the New World. Elizabeth would later marry to Mayflower passenger John Howland.

During the first winter in Plymouth, her parents John and Joan Tilley died in the general sickness as did about half the Mayflower Pilgrims. The orphan Elizabeth (then about thirteen years old) was taken into the household of Governor John Carver. However, before the first year was completed both Governor and his wife Katherine also died. This left John Howland responsible for what was left of the Carver household. Two years later about 1623 she married Mayflower passenger John Howland in Plymouth, Massachusetts.

He was born Jun 03, 1621 in Bryans-Piddle, Dorchester, England, and died Apr 07, 1708 in Sandwich, Barnstable, Massachusetts, USA.

Notes for John Chipman:

John's father died early, so he lived with his uncle Christopher Derby. In May, 1637, John at age 16 came to New England with his uncle and cousin Richard Derby. John likely came from England on the White Angel or on the Friendship, that had sailed, at the same time, from Barnstable in Devon, but had put back and so reached America a few days later.

There was no mention made of John till the spring of 1642, when he had arrived at legal age. In 1646 he married Hope, having purchased a homestead next to that of George Lewis, Sr., it containing eight acres and also a 'garden spot and orchard.'

When John died, 2nd wife Ruth had him interred in the Bourne lot of the original Sandwich Cemetery, on a knoll overlooking Shawme Pond and directly across from the ancient Hoxie House.

Hope's tombstone inscription:

"Here Lyeth-----, interred ye Body of Mrs. Hope Chipman, wife of Elder John Chipman, Aged 54 years, who changed this life for a better, ye 8th of January, 1683"

Hope is buried at the Lothrop Hill Cemetery in Barnstable, Barnstable, Massachusetts.

48. Hannah⁷ Chipman (Samuel⁶, Thomas⁵, Samuel⁴, Hope³ Howland, Elizabeth² Tilley, John¹, Robert^A, William^B, Thomas^C, Henry^D Tilly) was born Oct 28, 1758 in Salisbury, Litchfield, Connecticut, USA, and died 1812 in , , Vermont, USA. She married Job Spafford Mar 1779 in Tinmouth, Rutland, Vermont, USA, son of Jacob Spafford and Rebecca Smalley. He was born Jan 29, 1757 in Salisbury, Litchfield, Connecticut, USA, and died Mar 21, 1840 in Athol, Prince Edward, Ontario, Canada.

Notes for Job Spafford:

His name was sometimes spelled "Spoffard", but mostly it was spelled "Spafford".

Job married Hannah Chipman, daughter of Samuel and Hannah (Austin) Chipman. His sister Hannah married Samuel Chipman, son of Samuel and Hannah (Austin) Chipman.

In the 1790 Census in the Hinesburge District, Chittenden County, Vermont, Job Spafford is listed and has a wife and 3 females.

Job eventually became a Colonel. He served in both the Revolution and the War of 1812, removing after the close of the latter to Athol, Prince Edward County, Ontario, where he died. Hannah died in "the States," prior to his move to Canada.

A Job Spofard (spelling error), Private, was in Capt. Robert Andrews's co. of Minute-men, which marched on the alarm of 4/19/1775, from 2d Parish in Shrewsbury to Cambridge; service, 9 days; reported enlisted into the army.

A Job Spafford, was in Capt. Joseph Warrin's co., in a regiment commanded by Lieut. Col. Wheelock. He enlisted 9/27/1777, was discharged 10/17/1777, service, 28 days, with Northern army, including 8 days (150 miles) travel home; company raised for 30 days service. Roll sworn to in Worcester County.

Job Spafford is listed in an enlistment agreement endorsed Col'l Doolittle Regiment Capt Stearns Company, signed by said Spaffard and others, who engaged themselves between April 26, 1775, and Aug. 24, 1775, to serve until Dec. 31, 1775, unless sooner discharged.

Job was a Corporal in Captain Joseph Warrin's Company, in a Regiment commanded by L.Col. Wheelock. He enlisted in the Northern army on 9/27/1777, was discharged 10/17/1777. It included 8 days travel (150 miles), the company was raised for 30 days service. He was sworn in at Worcester County, Massachusetts.

It appears he became a Colonel and fought in the War of 1812 in the Battle of Lundy's Lane and the Siege of Fort Erie. The Battle of Lundy's Lane was the defining battle of the War of 1812 in Upper Canada. This might explain why he moved to Canada after Hannah died. Both sides claimed victory; both lost heavily. The American forces withdrew the next day and expanded their defence lines at Fort Erie.

Job served in both the Revolution and the War of 1812, moving after the War of 1812 to Athol, Prince Edward County, Ontario, where he died. Job was a Corporal in Captain Joseph Warrin's Company, in a Regiment commanded by L.Col. Wheelock. It appears he became a Colonel in the War of 1812 and fought in the Battle of Lundy's Lane and the Siege of Fort Erie. His wife died in Vermont prior to his move to Canada.

It's likely that Job is buried in the Old Cemetery in Berlin, Worcester, Massachusetts.

Descendants of Stephen Hopkins

Generation No. 1

1. Stephen¹ Hopkins (John^A) was born Apr 30, 1581 in Hursley, Hampshire, England, and died Jul 17, 1644 in Plymouth, Plymouth, Massachusetts, USA. He married (1) Mary May 09, 1599 in London, London, England. She died May 09, 1613 in Hursley, Hampshire, England. He married (2) Elizabeth Fisher Feb 19, 1617/18 in Whitechapel, Middlesex, England. She was born Abt. 1595 in England, and died Feb 04, 1638/39 in Plymouth, Plymouth, Massachusetts, USA.

Notes for Stephen Hopkins:

Although Stephen worked as a tanner and merchant, he had an adventurous nature.

He first sailed for the New World on 6/2/1609 with the Virginia Company of London, traveling on the ship Sea Venture. They were sailing to the Jamestown Colony in Virginia, which was established in 1607, bringing additional supplies. His contract with the Sea Venture stipulated that he had to work in Virginia for seven years before he could send for his family.

A severe storm shipwrecked them into reefs at the Isle of Devils near Bermuda. All 150 passengers survived. They lived off the wildlife found on the island and supplies from their ship. A smaller boat with some men sailed for the Jamestown Virginia Colony for assistance but were never heard from again. Hopkins and the remaining survivors spent nine months on Bermuda building two smaller ships, the Deliverance and Patience. They were building them from wood found on the island. Hopkins and the other castaways left Bermuda on May 10, 1610. They eventually made their way to Jamestown Colony on May 23rd. He then had to survive the poor conditions, diseases, lack of food and supplies in Jamestown. Hopkins stayed for several years before returning to England by 1616.

His 1st wife, Mary had died in 1613 and was buried at Hursley, Hampshire, England. When Stephen had returned, the English community church had sold his home and belongings to pay for the care of his children.

St. Leonard's Shoreditch, London, England, son of Nicholas Snow of HoxtonCounty, Middlesex. The parish of St. Leonard's adjoins

Stephen and his 2nd wife Elizabeth were married in St. Mary's, Whitechapel on 2/19/1617/18.

Stephen brought his family to America on the Mayflower, which sailed on 9/6/1620 for America, settling in Plymouth Colony. Stephen was recruited by the Merchant Adventurers to provide governance for the colony as well as assist with the colony's ventures. He was a member of a group of passengers known to the Pilgrims as "The Strangers" since they were not part of the Pilgrims' religious congregation. These non-Puritans were brought along to provide assistance.

Aboard the Mayflower, the passengers included Steven Hopkins, his 2nd wife Elizabeth (Fisher) Hopkins, son Giles age 12 and daughter Constance age 15 (both by 1st wife Mary), and daughter Damaris age 3. During the voyage, son Oceanus was born. They brought two servants on the Mayflower with them, Edward Doty and Edward Litster.

Hopkins was one of forty-one signatories of the Mayflower Compact and was an assistant to the governor of the colony through 1636. Hopkins was respected for his previous experience with Indians and was elected ambassador for native relations. In 1621 Hopkins, Edward Winslow and William Bradford were delegated by their associates to treat with the Indians in the Plymouth vicinity on behalf of the Pilgrims and succeeded in winning the friendship of Chief Massasoit (1580-1661), concluding a peace treaty on 22 March 1621 in the Hopkins home.

The story of the Sea Venture shipwreck and Hopkins' mutiny may have been the inspiration for William Shakespeare's "The Tempest". The play relates the story of a shipwrecked group stranded on an enchanted island. Shakespeare added the character of Stephano, a drunken bottler with delusions of grandeur who he named Stephano. Hopkins learned of this play later and stated, "To have provided some of the fabric for Shakespeare's vision of The Tempest and to appear in the play, even in the absurd disguise as Stephano, this in itself is a kind of immortality for Stephen Hopkins."

By late 1617, he moved with his children outside of London and worked as a tanner. He married Elizabeth Fisher in Feb. 1618. However he needed to better his economic life. He was recruited by the Separatists (Pilgrims) to start a new life in America.

Stephen was one of the signers of the Mayflower Compact. Only two other men had been to the New World besides Stephen, so his knowledge and experience was important. Stephen served as an aide to Captain Miles Standish.

The first structure built was the Common House. Death claimed many of the Mayflower's passengers their first winter there in the Plymouth Colony. All members of the Hopkins family including servants survived.

Additional colonists came over the years to settle in Plymouth Colony. Stephen served as assistant to the Governor of the Plymouth Colony through 1636. He was respected for his previous experience with Indians and was elected ambassador for native relations. The original peace agreements made with the Indians was done in Stephen's home at Plymouth.

Stephen set up a trading post with the Indians for furs. During that time he ran a store which also sold alcohol which was not approved by the Pilgrims.

In 1636, Stephen helped draw up the "Bill of Rights" which is viewed as one of Plymouth's chief accomplishments. He also built and owned the first wharf in Plymouth Colony, and in 1638 built a house at Yarmouth on Cape Cod, but soon returned to Plymouth. He gave the Yarmouth dwelling to Giles, who remained there and married Catherine Wheldon in 1639.

He volunteered for the Pequot War of 1637 but was not called up to serve possibly because he did oppose the war feeling it would hurt his Indian fur trade.

Elizabeth, his second wife, died in 1640.

Stephen Hopkins died at Plymouth Colony between 6 June and 17 July, 1644.

Notes for Mary:

It was found in 1998 that Constance Dudley is NOT the 1st wife of Stephen Hopkins, but it instead was a woman named Mary. There were also misconceptions about Stephen Hopkins and his birth place.

When Mary died Stephen was away on his voyage to Jamestown. The church seized the family assets to pay for the care of the 3 children until Stephen returned. The children's ages would have been Elizabeth about 9, Constance about 7, and Giles about 5 years old. The estate inventory when Mary died was dated 5/10/1613. The inventory calls Mary a widow, which is probably why the estate was seized, Stephen was presumed dead since he hadn't returned.

Generation No. 2

3. Constance² Hopkins (Stephen¹, John^A) was born May 11, 1606 in Hursley, Hampshire, England, and died Oct 1677 in Eastham, Barnstable, Massachusetts, USA. She married Nicholas Snow Abt.

1627 in Plymouth, Plymouth, Massachusetts, USA, son of Nicholas Snow and Elizabeth Rowles. He was born Jan 25, 1598/99 in Hoxton, Middlesex, England, and died Nov 15, 1676 in Eastham, Barnstable, Massachusetts, USA.

Notes for Nicholas Snow:

She was also called Constanta at times. Her baptismal record recorded her as Constancia.

Constance Hopkins was a Mayflower passenger. She journeyed with her father and stepmother, Stephen and Elizabeth Hopkins, her brother Giles, her half-sister Damaris and her half-brother Oceanus who was born during the voyage.

Sometime before 1627, Constance Hopkins married Nicholas Snow. Nicholas Snow had arrived at Plymouth on the ship "Anne" in 1623.

He had a share in the division of land in Plymouth in 1624.

Nicholas was made a freeman at Plymouth in 1633. He was named in 1634 to lay out highways at Plymouth and he served there as arbitrator, surveyor of highways and on juries.

In 1634 he settled at Eastham, Massachusetts, and was a prominent citizen. His home was on the road from Plymouth to Eel river, on the westerly side. He was admitted a freeman in 1633, and was elected town clerk at the first meeting of the town of Eastham, holding that office sixteen years.

The Snows moved from Plymouth to Nauset, on Cape Cod in the 1640s. On the Cape, Nicholas served as surveyor, constable and selectman. By 1645 he had settled at Eastham where he served as clerk, selectman, deputy, constable, highway surveyor, excise tax collector and on court committees.

He was deputy to the general court from 1648 three years; selectman from 1663 seven years. He and his son, Mark, signed the call to Rev. John Mayo to settle as their minister in 1655. He was one of Governor Thomas Prence's associates.

The inventory of Nicholas' estate, taken at the time of his death, includes carpenter's tools. This may have been his trade. His inventory also included books, so he was probably literate. Nicholas held various minor positions in Plymouth, such as highway surveyor.

Constance and Nicholas had 12 children. Nicholas died in November of 1676, Constance a year later in October of 1677. Before his death, Nicholas Snow wrote a will.

In the 1790 Census in the Hinesburge District, Chittenden County, Vermont, Job Spafford is listed and has a wife and 3 females.

Job eventually became a Colonel. He served in both the Revolution and the War of 1812, removing after the close of the latter to Athol, Prince Edward County, Ontario, where he died. Hannah died in "the States," prior to his move to Canada.

A Job Spofard (spelling error), Private, was in Capt. Robert Andrews's co. of Minute-men, which marched on the alarm of 4/19/1775, from 2d Parish in Shrewsbury to Cambridge; service, 9 days; reported enlisted into the army.

A Job Spafford, was in Capt. Joseph Warrin's co., in a regiment commanded by Lieut. Col. Wheelock. He enlisted 9/27/1777, was discharged 10/17/1777, service, 28 days, with Northern army, including 8 days (150 miles) travel home; company raised for 30 days service. Roll sworn to in Worcester County.

Job Spafford is listed in an enlistment agreement endorsed Col'l Doolittle Regiment Capt Stearns Company, signed by said Spaffard and others, who engaged themselves between April 26, 1775, and Aug. 24, 1775, to serve until Dec. 31, 1775, unless sooner discharged.

Job was a Corporal in Captain Joseph Warrin's Company, in a Regiment commanded by L.Col. Wheelock. He enlisted in the Northern army on 9/27/1777, was discharged 10/17/1777. It included 8 days travel (150 miles), the company was raised for 30 days service. He was sworn in at Worcester County, Massachusetts.

It appears he became a Colonel and fought in the War of 1812 in the Battle of Lundy's Lane and the Siege of Fort Erie. The Battle of Lundy's Lane was the defining battle of the War of 1812 in Upper Canada. This might explain why he moved to Canada after Hannah died. Both sides claimed victory; both lost heavily. The American forces withdrew the next day and expanded their defence lines at Fort Erie.

Job served in both the Revolution and the War of 1812, moving after the War of 1812 to Athol, Prince Edward County, Ontario, where he died. Job was a Corporal in Captain Joseph Warrin's Company, in a Regiment commanded by L.Col. Wheelock. It appears he became a Colonel in the War of 1812 and fought in the Battle of Lundy's Lane and the Siege of Fort Erie. His wife died in Vermont prior to his move to Canada.

It's likely that Job is buried in the Old Cemetery in Berlin, Worcester, Massachusetts.
